Emergency Response Systems

There are two basic types of personal emergency response systems: monitored and non-monitored. There are several agencies that offer monitored emergency response systems. Call for prices for installation and monitoring fees.

Monitored:

ALERT Medical Response - (209)634-5555

Cell Phones: The most basic is a working cell phone without service. All cell phones will call 911, so a family member's old phone can serve as an emergency phone. Just remember to keep it with you and to keep it charged.

Be sure to add your local Police Department number to your cell phone for quicker response time, phone numbers vary based upon location of city.

File of Life: Keep medical information handy in your personal File of Life, that should go on your refrigerator for medical responders to easily access in case of an emergency.

The Committee is composed of current or former IHSS Recipients and Providers. The Committee also advises the IHSS Public Authority (PA) on matters related to its practices and procedures.

My name is Linda White; Bill, my husband, of almost 30 years, passed away recently. In 1988 Bill was diagnosed with Multiple Sclerosis (MS), he had the type that got progressively worse. The cause of MS is not known and there is no cure. As he struggled with the growing disability, I struggled with working and taking care of him. One day someone told us about In-Home Supportive Services (IHSS). I could get paid to take care of him and didn't have to work outside the home. The program saved our lives. He was able to get the care he needed, I was able to be his caregiver, and we got to stay in our own home. I joined the IHSS Advisory Committee because I wanted to make a difference for people that were in the same situation as we were. I will be forever grateful that we were able to have our years together, in our own home. That Bill was able to have the dignity to be cared for by someone who loved him.

Medical Equipment

Durable Medical Equipment / Assistive Devices

Medical Equipment and Assistive Devices can help a person complete basic activities of daily living (i.e. eating, dressing, toileting, bathing, etc.). These may include bath safety devices like a raised toilet seat, shower chair, special lift or bed rail, mobility aids like a cane or walker, special eating utensils, reachers, and dressing aids, just to name a few.

Many items are covered by medical insurance but some are not. Most insurance companies require a physician's order or prescription for such devices. Insurance agencies often contract with a specific vendor, so always check with your insurance before purchasing items.

How to get started: Ask Your Physician for a Prescription

There are several medical equipment stores that bill insurance, i.e.; Medicare/Private Insurance. Check listings for 'medical equipment' in the Yellow Pages. Ask your physician to fax your prescription (or you can take it) to a medical supply company that accepts your insurance.

For Medi-Cal clients and/or Medicare:

Mobility Plus (209)552-2244

Note: This is not a complete list. Please refer to the Yellow Pages for more listings.

For Medicare Advantage plans: Call your Health Plan for provider information.

If You Have a Fall

Senior Coalition of Stanislaus County Recommendations:

1. Use a “Home Safety Checklist” to evaluate your home environment and reduce fall risks. Some ways to make your home safer include:
  - Removing clutter from stairs and walkways
  - Installing grab bars and hand rails where needed
  - Have adequate lighting in your home
2. Exercise Regularly - Work to improve your strength and balance with a “Young at Heart” class or similar program - with your physician’s approval.
3. Be Smart - use assistive walking devices, handrails, grab bars, and shower chairs to help you maintain your balance.
4. Review Your Medications - Have your doctor or pharmacist review all the medicines you take including over the counter medicines. Taking multiple medications increases your risk for a fall. As you get older, the way medicines work in your body can change.
5. Have your vision and hearing checked regularly - Have your eyes checked by an eye doctor at least once a year. Poor vision can increase your chances of falling.
6. Ask your physician for an order for Physical Therapy, for a “Safety/Fall Risk and Balance Assessment”.

Note: If you are primarily homebound and outpatient Physical Therapy would be a hardship, you may qualify for “Home Health Physical Therapy”. Be sure to request this from your physician if this applies to your situation.
